THICK COAT OF DUST ON ROADS TO FAIR GROUNDS

Neither City Nor County Has Taken Steps to Put Main Thoroughfares in Condition.

BOULEVARD EXTENSION POOR

Only Half as Wide as Improved Portion, and Has Never Been Oiled. Hermitage Road in Same Shape. Bridge Needs Attention.

With the Virginia State Fair just two working days off, no apparent effort has been made by either the authorities of the city of Richmond or Henrico County to put the two main thoroughfares leading to the grounds into condition fit for travel. Both roads, the Boulevard extension and the Hermitage Road, are, as roadways go, fair, but nothing to boast of. They are fairly level, and the depressions are not too deep, but one vehicle can raise a cloud of dust heavy enough to choke a score of pedestrians, not to mention the occupants of electric cars and the vehicles themselves.

Whose duty is to get the roads into condition is a debatable question. At present they are in Henrico County, but those within the lines of annexation, they will be put in the city within a month from now. Consequently the county authorities are not inclined to spend their money on the necessary repairs. Only one thing seems clear, and that is, the patrons of the fair will suffer torments from the dust next week if there is no rain in the interim.

PORTIONS OF BOULEVARD PUT IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

The city of Richmond has put the Boulevard in excellent shape as far as the portion extending from the intersection of Broad Street, but the extension is only half as wide as the improved portion of the street, and has never been oiled. The roadbed is of gravel, which from years of heavy and constant travel has been pulverized into dust several inches deep. The ruts and gullies which will be made by the rain, and the road appears very smooth, it is soft, and an automobile traveling at a fair pace raises a cloud that hangs in the air for many miles.

The Hermitage Road is in practically the same condition, and with the heavy automobile traffic of next week, it will be unbearable. Only one thing is to be done, and that is, the city should raise a cloud that hangs in the air for many miles.

ACCUMULATION OF DIRT ON RAIL TRACKS

Another disagreeable feature which will work against the fair patrons is the bridge over the railroad tracks, which must be used by every one entering the grounds. Dirt has accumulated there for the past two years, and here again the dust will be raised in choking clouds unless preventative remedies are adopted.

The whole situation can be easily remedied by the application of oil. It would cost a considerable sum to ally the dirt nuisance, but from the point of view of the fair patron, it would be money well spent, as there is nothing worse for a holiday crowd to stand than dirt.

IT IS HARDLY PROBABLE THAT THE SAME CONDITION WILL PREVAIL ANOTHER YEAR, AS THE CITY WILL THEN CONTROL THIS TERRITORY, AND WILL EXTEND THE BOULEVARD TO THE FAIR GROUNDS, AND WILL KEEP THE HIGHWAY IN A GOOD STATE OF REPAIR.

STOLEN GOODS RECOVERED

Henrico Police Arrest Two Negroes for Stolen Goods. Ethel Williams, colored, and Joseph Scott, colored, were arrested yesterday, charged with being implicated in the theft of clothing, jewelry and money, valued at approximately $50, from Miss Josephine Scudder, of Highland Park. The arrest was made by Henrico County Officers Webb Snyder and John Shoemaker, who succeeded in recovering practically all of the stolen property.

Ethel Williams was employed as a maid for a time in the Kepler home, and it was shortly after she left the place that the articles, including a handsome gold watch, were missing. Part of the stolen goods was found in the possession of Scott, and the officers believe that they were given to him by the Williams girl.

Cruelty to Chickens. Dewitt Felvey was yesterday fined $2 and costs in the Police Court, when arraigned on a charge of offering chickens for sale with the legs tied.

LABOR-LAW VIOLATIONS CHARGED AGAINST MANY

Thirty-Six Warrants Sworn Out in Danville by Deputy Industrial Inspector Clinch.

WILL PROSECUTE ALL CASES

Alleged That Majority of Manufacturers Failed to Have Fire Escapes. Failure to Conform to Sanitary Rules is Other Accusation.

While Commissioner of Labor James B. Doherty declines to comment on a report that his recent journey to Danville, Lynchburg and Petersburg had anything to do with the surprising activity of local authorities in those cities and the sudden interest expressed in each city by the police in labor conditions, a report received at the headquarters of the State Department of Labor yesterday afternoon, in the form of a letter from the department of wholesale prosecutions inaugurated yesterday morning, when no less than thirty-six warrants were sworn out by Deputy Industrial Inspector J. B. Clinch, in Danville, against the defendants named. In twenty-six cases the charge is failure to equip buildings with proper fire escapes. In the remaining cases the charge is failure to conform to sanitary laws. The official report indicates that the evidence to be produced in court was secured by agents of the State Labor Department, working with or without the assistance of the local police, under the direction of Deputy Clinch.

OWNER, AS WELL AS OCCUPANT, IS SUMMONED

In six of the cases involving the fire escapes, the occupant, as well as the owner of the building, has been summoned to answer the complaint. These cases are: The Milan Company, J. B. Anderson, owner of the building; P. B. Gravelly, Tobacco Company, building owned by Mrs. Frances Dunnington, two cases; Virginia-Carolina Tobacco Company, T. S. Williamson & Co., building owned by Mrs. Jennie E. Mills; J. M. Edwards & Co., building owned by Mrs. Alice Burton; W. T. Cousins & Co., building owned by R. L. Dibble; E. G. Mosley & Co.; John E. Hughes & Co.; Robert Kinney, colored, was yesterday arrested by Patrolman Smallwood on a warrant charging him with assaulting Harry Freeman, 907 Mosby Street, with a lighted lamp.

THE GIRLS OF THE CANNING CLUBS

The greatest progress is being made by the girls of this State in the canning of fruit and vegetables. They are learning to save all of the products of the farm and to use them in the most economical and healthful manner. These girls will grow into the independent, self-reliant women of our great rural districts, and to them a great deal of the credit will be due for the progress and upbuilding of our farm life. The government can do no better work than to continue this splendid training of the girls in the SAVINGS HABIT.

REPORTS SWINDLE OF $10,000 IN FARGO

J. Baxter Wilson, Richmond Lawyer, Causes Arrest of Philadelphia Man.

LOSES CASH NEAR NIAGARA

Claimed to Have System of Play That Would Break the Bank.

Charged with obtaining money under false pretense, Lawrence M. Day, thirty-five years old, a married man residing in Haddon Heights, N. J., was arrested at his home Wednesday night, and is now in the Camden County (N. J.) jail, awaiting requisition to Buffalo, N. Y.

The warrants for Day's arrest were sworn out by J. Baxter Wilson, a lawyer of Richmond, who stated that Day and a man by the name of King, who is said to live in New York City, obtained nearly $10,000 from him by attending to him how to treat a faro bank. Day denied the charges, and said that he is a business man and a wholesale dealer in toys, and that he had a twin brother, and this was probably the man for whom the police were looking.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Hewitt, Day was committed to prison in default of $10,000 bail, to await requisition to Niagara Falls. Wilson identified Day as the man wanted by the police, and Day is also known as W. Moore, A. W. Moore and L. W. Moore.

KING VISITED RICHMOND DURING LAST MARCH

According to the account given the police by Wilson, King came to Richmond last March. He became acquainted with Wilson, and one day told Wilson that he had a brother in Philadelphia who had a system of play that would break any faro bank. The two then went to Philadelphia.

Wilson said that King took him to a big hotel, and sent their cards up to Day, and went back that Day was too tired to see them, and for that reason they took him outside the hotel. Day then produced a faro table, Wilson said, and the two men showed him how easy it was to beat the game. Wilson returned to Richmond last March, and drew $3,500 from bank. The two men then took him outside the hotel, and he returned to Philadelphia and swore out a warrant against Wilson, and he is now in the American National Bank Building.

He was formerly a stockholder connected with Allen E. Donnan & Co., a brokerage office on Twelfth Street. His address is given in the city directory as Murphy's hotel, but it was not there last night, and he no longer lived at the hotel, and that his present house address was unknown.

NIGHT HIGH SCHOOL HAS LARGE ENROLLMENT
Capacity of Auditorium is Taxed to Utmost on Opening Night—Many cannot Get In.

With the heaviest enrollment in its history, John Marshall Night High School began its sessions last night, when classes were organized for the year. It will be several days before the actual figures are ready, but it can now be seen that the facilities will be taxed to their utmost, and there is a possibility that the applicants cannot all be accommodated.

Long before the doors of the high school opened last night prospective pupils began to assemble, and by 7:30 o'clock, there was a crowd of more than 1,000 on hand. Probably one out of every ten persons was of mature years, the number of adults being far in excess of all previous years of the school. The session opened with a meeting in the auditorium of the school, and it was not large enough to accommodate the crowd. Every seat on the main floor and in the balcony was filled, while the aisles and windows were blocked to such an extent that police had to clear them to meet the fire regulations. Several hundred persons were unable to gain admittance to the hall.

Professor W. C. Locker, who is again at the head of the night school, opened the meeting with an address after the big assemblage had sung "America" under the leadership of Professor Walter C. Mercer. He told of the bright prospects of the school, and of the work to be taken up during the coming session.

The night school will run for a term of six and one-half months, with three sessions each week. Each night there will be three class periods of forty minutes each, and special and vocational classes will be provided in addition to the regular academic course.

Last year the total enrollment was nearly 1,700, but that number will be exceeded this year, in spite of the fact that the age limit for entrance has been raised from twelve to fourteen years.

COUNCIL CHAMBER WILL BE REMODELED BY CITY

Special Joint Committee Wants Additional $500 to Carry Out Work as Outlined.

Plans for remodeling and beautifying the Council Chamber at the City Hall were discussed at length last night at a meeting of the special joint committee of the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council. It was stated that an appropriation of $500, in addition to the appropriation of $4,800 which has already been made, will be required to carry out the plan of improvements as outlined by members of the committee. Colonel Barton H. Grundy, chairman of the Finance Committee, who presided as chairman of the special committee, stated that he felt sure no objections would be raised toward increasing the original appropriation. Building Inspector John Butler was instructed to prepare drawings to be submitted, showing proposed improvements, in order that they be made to conform with suggestions made last night.

The Council Chamber will be finished in mahogany throughout, with new furniture, carpets and upholstery to match, according to the plan approved. It was decided that if properly treated, the oak woodwork in the room can be finished in mahogany with fine effect, but the quartered oak desks and chairs will have to be replaced with mahogany any furniture. The oak blinds will be taken from the windows and will be replaced by handsome drapery. To carry out the plan, the new carpet and rugs will be purchased.

The half dozen or more handsome oil portraits which grace the walls of the chamber will be retouched by some competent artist and new frames will be placed about the pictures. All of the fittings in the chamber will be made to conform in every respect.

Mr. Butler stated that he would probably finish the revision of the drawings within a week, and it is likely that the actual work of remodeling the chamber will begin within a short time.

COURT ALLOWS APPEAL IN SUIT FOR DIVORCE

Mrs. Essie Harrison Johnson Will Be Given Another Chance to Prove Her Case.

Mrs. Essie Harrison Johnson, who was denied the divorce she sought in Norfolk from her husband, Eugene Johnson, by the decree of the Circuit Court of the city of Norfolk, July 2, will be given another chance to prove her case.

The Supreme Court of Appeals yesterday granted her petition for an appeal, and she is now in the city of Norfolk, where she is preparing to file her appeal. The appeal was granted on the condition that the appellant was required to give a bond of $100.

Mrs. Johnson charged her husband with abandoning her, filing her bill against him last January in Norfolk. Mr. Johnson was granted a divorce in the city of Norfolk, and she was given another chance to prove her case.

REGISTER TO-MORROW OR LOSE VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Important Question of Compulsory Education to Overshadow Perfunctory Ratification of Nominations.

Registrars will sit in their respective polling precincts to-morrow from sunrise to sunset for the purpose of registering new voters and issuing transfers. The books will then, in accordance with the general election law, be closed until after the fall election, which will be held on November 3.

Ordinarily the fall election would be a perfunctory one, as it is for the purpose of ratifying the choice of the Democratic primaries, and the opposition from other parties is inconsequential. This year, however, it will be of prime importance, because on that date the electorate of Richmond will be called upon to vote for or against compulsory education of the young.

The vote on compulsory education was authorized two weeks ago by the City School Board, in accordance with a bill passed at the 1913 session of the General Assembly giving the cities, towns and counties of the State the privilege of exercising local option on the question. It will be the first election held in the State with this question at stake, although several counties and smaller cities have taken advantage of the law.

In addition to the compulsory education vote, the people of Richmond will be called upon to ratify the nomination of Congressman A. J. Montague, Carlton McCarthy and John Hirschberg, for the Administrative Board, and the selection of the City Democratic Committee for a member of the General Assembly by the vote of the city of Richmond, and the late D. L. Toney, of South Richmond.

Republicans have offered no opposition to the Democratic nominees, but the Socialist party of the Third District will put a congressional ticket in the field. On the compulsory education question, the party lines are not drawn, and men of all affiliations will vote on the question. Henrico County will also decide the question on the same day.

A special athletic program has been arranged for the employed boys' event, to which all parents are invited. Boys over ten years of age will be admitted.
